Kidnaped Manufacturer, Secretary

CLUES ARE FEW
IN KIDNAP HUNT
Possibility of Death Is Seen In Abductors' Silence
(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—A hotel bellboy's meager description of a mysterious man in a gray cap offered the only promising clue today to the kidnapers of wealthy and aged Charles S. Ross.
The man talked to Ross in a Sycamore, Ill., hotel a few hours before the 72-year-old retired great-ing car manufacturer was abducted on a highway a few miles west of Chicago Saturday night.
No demand for ransom had been received by the victim's distraught wife. The kidnapers' silence engendered a belief that Ross might have died from shock. He had suffered from heart disease.
Talked at Fargo Hotel
The conversation between Ross and the man wearing a gray cap occurred at the Fargo hotel where the former had dined with his one-time secretary, Miss Florence Freihage, 44.
Cecil Vandemere, 19-year-old bellboy, said the man approached him in the lobby and pointing at Ross asked:
"Do you know who that is? He looks like a man I used to know." Vandemere replied he did not know the elderly man. Later he told police he was unable to tell whether Ross and the stranger were acquainted.
Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief of the state's attorney's police, said the man may have been a spotter for the three kidnapers who forced Ross out of his car and carried him off in their own.
"I am convinced that this was a real kidnaping but that it was ac-

Type CommunicationThe Ohio highway patrol planned today to join Pennsylvania police in experiments with a radio typewriter designed to copy messages in patrol cars.The system, which may be adapted to the patrol's present radio transmitting equipment, would exclude outsiders from listening in on police signals.It is similar to the automatic printers used on telegraph circuits.
A patrolman could leave his automobile and return to find messages received on the machine.Supt. Lynn Black of the highway patrol said it probably would be several months before Ohio patrol cars are equipped with the new type receiver.Commission Cites hearing in Cleveland Oct. 5 why it should not be prohibited permanently from selling profit-sharing certificates of interest in Texas oil leases.Dan T. Moore, division chief, said registration of the certificates was suspended yesterday on charges that corporation salesmen were re-

As Young Freddie's
Film Career Burns(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—Life is just trouble, trouble, trouble and worry, worry, worry for young Freddie Bartholomew.Right in the middle of his court fight for more money from Metro-goldwyn-Mayer came Mama and Papa Bartholomew, wanting to take him away from his Aunt Myllicent.Attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Llewellyn Bartholomew, Freddie's parents, filed notice in superior court yesterday they would petition to have his adoption by his aunt April 3 set aside on grounds of fraud. Hearing was set for Friday.Attorney Avery Blount explained the parents believed a signed statement in which the aunt promised to return their son at their request was binding despite the adoption.To top off all Freddie's cares, while lawyers fiddle and Freddie's career burns, another lad with an Oxford accent is taking his place on the screen.Ronald Sinclair, 14, of Dundend, New Zealand, eyes his job and his name to the Bartholomew case.When Freddie walked out on M-G-M, and demanded nearly three times his $1,100 weekly paycheck, Ronnie walked in. At one jump, he leaped from a cowboy western with Gene Autry to an "A" picture with Sophie Tucker, A.
Aubrey Smith, Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland.Freddie and Ronnie have met only once, but Ronnie has seen all of Freddie's pictures and admired them—immensely, he said.Wednesday Closing

POWER PROJECT
LAUDED BY F.D.R.Sees, at Bonneville, Better Conditions for Small Communities(By Associated Press)
BONNEVILLE DAM, Ore., Sept.
28.—President Roosevelt stood on this great federal power-navigation project today and asserted its cost would be returned many times over in improved navigation, cheaper electricity, and distribution of power to "hundreds of small communities within a great radius."In the first formal address of his west coast trip, he tied in this $51,000,000 Columbia basin undertaking with his program for regional and national planning. He declared, too, that instead of spending half its income on armaments as some nations do, America was wiser in building such projects to give "more wealth, better living and greater happiness for our children."The president also:
Predicted broader use of electric power a "wider geographical distribution of population" through the building up of smaller communities.Promised a "definitely balanced" budget by the next fiscal year—July 1, 1938.Forecast "ultimate development" of the St. Lawrence waterway for power and navigation improvement. A treaty with Canada on this project was rejected by the senate several years ago.Favored a policy of the "widest use" of power at Bonneville, Grand Coulee and other federal dams.Re-advocated better land use and conservation of water resources.Denied his proposal would "set up all powerful authorities which would destroy state lines, take away local government and make what people call a totalitarian or authoritarian or some other kind of a dangerous national centralized control.""Most people realize," he said on the latter point, "that the exact opposite is the truth—that regional commissions will be far more closely in touch with the needs of all the localities and all the people in their respective regions than a system of plans which originate in the capital of the nation."Recalls Experiences
The president led up to his prediction of a redistribution of populations by relating how New York state, when he was governor, discourage the idea of planning an other great manufacturing city like"Complete repairs

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 28.—
Seven years ago William Bender, 47, of Hoxie, Ark., fell under a freight train here and his right leg was cut off.Last night Bender was here again.
He and two other men were sleep-the autumn night.An hour later Bender awoke to find his leg leg burned off.GRAND JURORS

Session May Continue
Into OctoberLISBON, Sept. 28.—Possibility that the September term of the grand jury may extend into October before the jurors report back appeared today as additional witnesses were subpoenaed.The jury had been expected to return its findings Thursday. However, new cases and a probable investigation into alleged Columbian county gambling activities, are keeping the jurors busy.The business of the jury is secret but it is understood that 18 new witnesses were questioned today in connection with different cases.Interest has arisen over Common Pleas Judge W. F. Loney's charge to the jury when it first convened Sept. 20 to investigate
"gambling of any kind in the county."Outstanding among 47 criminal cases before the jurors is that of Johannes (John) Borgwardt, 23, alleged slayer of Mrs. Ruth B.
Cranston, Westville farm woman.
He is charged with first degree murder.Suspect's Suicide Attempt Is FailureLOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—John R. Walker, 36-year-old caddy held for the slaying of his common-law wife, was recovering in a padded cell today after chewing his wrists in an attempt at suicide.Detective D. R. Patton said Walker confessed last night to killing Virginia Lee Darrow, 34. When police arrived at his cell later to take a formal statement they found him unconscious and bleeding.Patton said Walker apparently had opened an artery with his teeth, then dived headlong from his bunk to the steel floor. Aside from loss of blood, however, he suffered only minor injuries.The strange death attempt came a few hours after an autopsy showed Miss Darrow was killed by blows on the head with a blunt instrument in a Venice apartment last Thursday night.Liquor Suspect Is twelve-mile chase by state highway patrolmen ended Monday afternoon in the capture of Raymond Cross, 37, of Akron, who was charged with transportation of liquor after, the patrolmen said, 100 gallons of contraband were found in his car.State Patrolmen Miller and to Patrolman A. M. Barnhouse as he was chasing a speeder, the third motorcycle police mishap in 10 days, today brought a demand from Mayor Guy E. Allott for enactment of an ordinance to reduce speed limits in Alliance's congested districts.Barnhouse's hip was fractured when his motorcycle skidded.The city's blind executive criticized sharply the failure of council to enact an ordinance to reduce the speed.The police department added its voice to the traffic outcry by demanding more flashers on danger-

GENEVA, Sept. 28.—The League of Nations assembly condemned Japanese aerial bombardment of China cities today by a moment of dramatic, solemn silence.There was no formal vote.
The Aga Khan, delegate from India and newly-elected assembly president, interpreted as a vote of unanimous approval the silence that followed presentation of the Sino-Japanese advisory committee's resolution of condemnation.Acts Swiftly
The assembly acted swiftly on the resolution. It had been adopted yesterday by the league advisory group on which the United States is represented in a consultative capacity.A letter accompanying the text of the measure, from Foreign Minister William Munters of Latvia, Japanese committee, explained its purpose was to give delegates not represented on the committee an opportunity to subscribe to it.Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, Republican Spain's league delegate, then took the floor to support the resolution. At the conclusion of his address, the Aga Khan announced the body had then approved the condemnation without dissenting vote.The brief condemnation of Japanese aerial tactics in the undeclared war in China, as approved by the advisory committee, expressed "profound distress at the loss of life caused to innocent civilians, including great numbers of women and children, as the result of such bombardment."Find "No Excuse"
The resolution declared "no excuse can be made for such acts, which have aroused horror and indignation throughout the world," and "solemnly" condemned such attacks.Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, China's delegate, had urged the league to brand Japan the "wrongdoer of the world" and an aggressor in the Sino-Japanese war—if the league could not go further to "enforce international law and principles of the (league) covenant."The advisory committee's meet-denly canceled with no reason publicly ascribed but reports were current that the leading delegations

NOTHING WAS LOST

Almost unnoticed in the echoing rumble of struggling armies is a faint hum of talk from the League of Nations in Geneva.

The statesmen huddled around council tables in the palace built to commemorate the dream of international security based on agreement know they have lost influence, so they aren't trying to make themselves heard.

The remarkable thing is that they have met. The League of Nations has met the fate foretold by cynics—another way of saying cynicism has enjoyed a triumph in the post-war world. The vision of peace secured by international agreement and law has been blown away by the acrid breath of militarism in Asia, in Africa and in Europe.

The League assembly is now in its 18th annual session. The problems it faces are of vital importance, but it can do nothing about them. It has ceased to be the source and center of international action. Yet, the assembly has convened. Most of the nations of the world still are represented. This must mean something.

It does mean something. It means that the League of Nations, with all its faults, its corruption and its foolish dependence on the good intentions of powerful members who cannot afford to have good intentions, enabled a few men to see that the alternative to international destruction was international cooperation.

It supplied mankind with the only means it ever had to challenge the hitherto undisputed might of warriors. Little wonder that scoffers predicted from the outset that it would fail; the dream was too ambitious. Twenty years after the last great war another struggle to exhaustion seems inevitable. But nothing has been lost.

If there must be another period of chaos, another generation of men will stumble out of the ruins resolved to make a recurrence of such folly impossible. They will dream, as they dreamed in 1919, of international cooperation. But they will dream next time with the experience of the League of Nations to guide them. They will know what not to expect, if nothing more.

SHOOT!

Is it too much to hope that among the members of the "Shoot" school of drama a few sensitive souls spent Sunday in sickly contemplation of their handiwork?

A little boy in Toledo had a bullet in his skull. The principal of his school, a 60 year old woman, was in serious condition with a wound in her abdomen.

As nearly as police can find what happened, the child, 12 years old, had been reading and hearing and seeing too many stories of violence. He liked badit stories in magazines and on the radio. He had seen bandit pictures at the movies.

He wanted to be tough. A gun in the house represented to his childish mind the symbol of a bold, adventurous life. He took the gun, used it on the principal—who was a symbol of restraint—then turned it on himself.

Fortunately, both the child and his teacher are expected to live. Is it too much to hope that a few souls who spend their time and talents preparing deadly trash to poison the minds of children wished they could die when they saw directly for once the effect of their misguided efforts?

MANICURE AND PERMANENT

Penologists who think the best way to begin rehabilitating a woman prisoner is to give her a manicure and permanent, and civic boosters thumping a tub for dear old Podunk, have no good reason to think of themselves as allies, but they are.

The Great Lakes exposition in Cleveland has reached the end of a two year run. The promoters are punching their adding machines and running 8-digit totals, but they don't need exact figures to prove that the exposition was a success. Like Chicago's exposition in the middle of the depression, the Great Lakes show helped a big city to get hold of itself after a tough experience. Everybody agrees on that.

Besides the money it brought to Cleveland, the exposition cleaned up an eyesore that had disgraced the city for years. It showed how the lake front can be beautified and gave Clevelanders something to show off to visitors. The civic boosters up there who promoted the thing may never have thought about it this way before, but there's not much difference between what they did and what an enlightened penologist does when she lets Sloppy Sadie enjoy a manicure and a permanent.

The Government has promised speedier news of approaching hurricanes. No doubt it will be a great comfort not to be surprised when one's home is blown away.—Charleston (W. Va.) Mail.

Justice Black is due in America Oct. 1, and the Supreme Court starts work again Oct. 4 and President Roosevelt returns to Washington Oct. 5, if all that means anything to you.—Detroit Free Press.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 28—The metropolis has fishermen aplenty but scarcely any hunters. Save those of the big game variety, such as the Carl Akeley and Ted and Kermit Roosevelt. Sporting goods houses find little interest in exhibits of guns and hunting paraphernalia.

But their fishing sections are always crowded and invariably the largest departments. None knows the why of the lack of interest in shooting, for there is good hunting in the nearby Adirondacks and in Maine, and there is even deer in remote sections of Long Island.

Fishing is about the only out-of-door sport indulged by actors. Some of the better fish tales come out of the smoking rooms of the Lambs and Players. Cartoonists are also enthusiastic anglers—such as Webster, Ding, Crosby and McManus. Nearly all leave town for the trout season.

Bob Ripley is also a skilled fisherman and has cast his line in more different waters of the world than any other living fisherman. And, of course, President Roosevelt has given great impetus to fishing by his many jaunts after the finny tribe.

Manhattan, too, a man who knows tells me, is the most picnic-conscious area in the world. There is scarcely a family that does not enjoy a picnic lunch or dinner at least once a week during favorable seasons. The picnic, as much as apartment living, is responsible for the number of delicatessen shops.

Save for Frank Case of the Algonquin and Boomer of the Waldorf, few New York hotel men are widely known any more. There was a time when famous hotel names had a following in the manner of stage and movie stars. George Boldt of the Waldorf, Simon Ford of Grand Central, James Woods of the Belmont, John Bowman of the Biltmore group, Copeland Townsend of the Majestic, and more. But hotels grew too large and intricate for personal contacts with guests. Today there are assistant managers who greet by states. One for California, Nevada and Oregon. Another for Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana, and so on.

Scotch devotion: We have had a Scottish chauffeur two years, a polite, tactful fellow with a delightful burr. His wife was also agreeably employed and they were buying and furnishing a cottage on Long Island. Not long ago he received a letter from his 89-year-old mother in Scotland, who closed with a plaintive: "I long to see you once more." Two weeks later the couple sailed. He is going to remain with his mother for the rest of her days.

There grew up an increasing number of back yard cafes this summer. Mostly in rear of houses in tenement districts on the East Side with a surround of whitewash fence, perhaps an old alanthus tree, a carpet of gravel and a coat of "atmosphere." They are in charge of Jeans, Gastons and Fredericks and are reached through smelly kitchens. There are no menus, the prices are stiff and the food no better than in the average table d'hote save the meats are cooked in wine sauce and each customer served with crepes Suzette—the least expensive but most expensively listed dessert. Back yard places have done much to thin sidewalk cafe business.

When I have an urge to go pluperfectly grandiose dining out I order for dessert Coeur Flottant, which ranges from 90 cents to $1.25 and is in itself a sumptuous meal. A heart-shaped blob of frozen double cream swimming in floating island sauce and surrounded by reasonable fresh fruits over which have been sprinkled flakes of chocolate. It is highly tarified but somehow there's no feeling of swindle.

Frank Crowninshield, pronounced New York bachelor, recently observed that home is the place where husbands go when things have grown unpleasant at the club.

But alas, no Hollywood for Maudie;
He thought her naked feed were bawdy.

THE STARS SAY :

For Wednesday, September 29

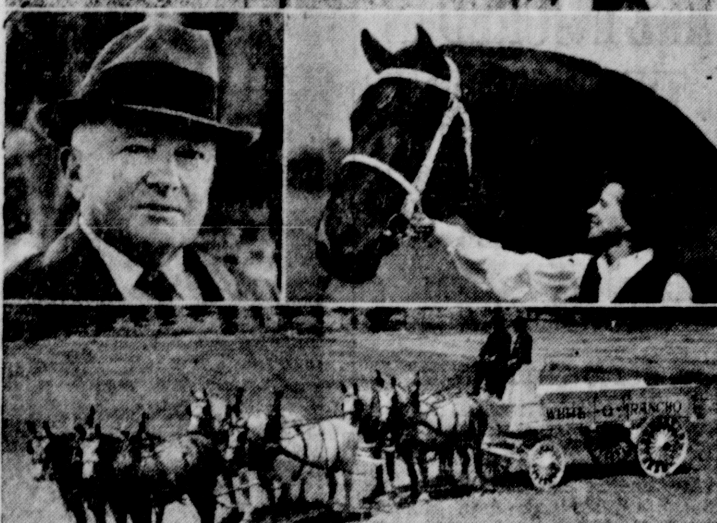

A very auspicious day is presaged for many old matters which may have been unprofitable or at a standstill. This may result from some legal decision or the renewal of a contract, probably concerning property or other accumulations or possessions. Industry, application and sound judgment may put the fortunes, both in investments and speculations, on a stable and growing basis. Employment is satisfactory and the private life should have happy reactions.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of decided stabilization of their fortunes, with sound growth in investments, increase in values, fortunate strokes in speculation, and a general advancement in old matters as well as fresh undertakings.

A child born on this day may be studious, dependable, industrious and have practical ideas and sound judgment, attracting the co-operation and rewards of those in position and power. Its private life will be gracious and happy.

Million Dollar Dairy Show

For the first time since 1918, Ohioans will have the opportunity October 9-16 to see the National Dairy Show in their own state.

A million dollars worth of prize livestock from the United States and Canada—1000 head of dairy cattle and 400 Percherons—will be assembled on the state fairgrounds in Columbus. Six full days of competition and entertainment have been arranged for the 100,000 Ohioans who will attend.

Livestock exhibitions and judging every day will hold the center of interest. The national horse pulling contest, intercollegiate livestock judging, competition of 4-H club teams from 35 states, and night shows in the coliseum are other activities which will help to provide entertainment for all.

Each night eight horse show classes will be presented, the famed "S. Army Olympic jumpers will demonstrate their ability, six-horse teams will go through intricate maneuvers, prize-winning livestock will parade the arena, and an hour's polo tournament will provide a thrilling climax for the three-hour program.

Brampton Basilua, world record Jersey shown at top, will head the delegation of 26 Canadian prize-winners sent to Columbus by the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

Center, right, is Mrs. William B. Murray, Wellington, Ohio, and Carlaet, reserve grand champion stallion at this year's Ohio State Fair. Carlaet will be competing for added honors at the National Percheron Show.

Charles F. Michael, Bucyrus, center, left, is chairman of the show committee. Breeder of prize Jerseys, he is also president of the Ohio Manufacturers' Association.

Below is the famous White-O-Rancho six-horse team coming all the way from Healdsburg, Calif., to take part in the night show.

STATURE

Hardly a day passes that I do not receive a letter from one of my young readers asking how to grow tall. Boys, particularly, are anxious to attain what they regard as enviable height. Quite as many girls are desirous of being tall, but they are usually more concerned about weight.

There is no doubt that many persons are unhappy over being short. Sometimes an overly sensitive soul develops an inferiority complex because of extreme shortness. Some resort to all sorts of measures to increase their height and naturally are disappointed if their efforts are unsuccessful. Stature is controlled by nature. It is markedly influenced by heredity and, with present knowledge, is seldom changed by medication or other measures.

Can Help Nature
Of course, we can help nature somewhat and aid growth by the removal of all possible handicaps that serve to prevent development. But there is no medicine that will guarantee increased height.

If a child's parents are tall he is very likely to reach a good height by the time he matures. Occasionally the offspring of short parents reaches a good height, perhaps because some of their ancestors were tall. For this reason it is difficult to determine in advance whether a youngster will be tall or short. The children of this generation are quite generally taller than their parents. This may be because they have been more scientifically fed and have been given the advantages of systematic and supervised exercises.

Let me point out that if you are desirous of being tall and wish to appear taller than you really are, it is necessary to improve your posture. Avoid stooping and walking with rounded shoulders and faulty gait. Your figure may be improved by walking a little every day with a

MAKE GESTURES TOWARD BRITISH

Italy and Germany Propose Four-Power Pact By Stages

Italy during the Ethiopian campaign). At about the same time, Hitler also is to seek to better relations with London.

The psychology to be pursued is two-fold—1. To impress Premier Neville Chamberlain's government with the solidarity of the Italo-German lineup and its combined military strength. 2. To convince London this strength is not to be used against Britain, but that in conjunction with her it would serve to keep peace in Europe.

This is to be the first stage. The second isn't to come until the first is definitely concluded, and London is lined up with Berlin and Rome, not in a three-power pact but through Berlin-London friendship and Rome-London friendship.

France Next on List The second stage is to convince France it is to her interest to come into the London-Berlin-Rome alignment. Hitler and Mussolini appear to count on British influence over France to bring this about.

This, then, would make the four-power pact. An important feature of the plan, however, is that France would be asked to give up her defensive alliance with Russia before she could enter into the arrangement.

Nearly a million residents of Berlin thronged early toward Mayfield Olympic stadium to see and hear Hitler, the host, and Mussolini, the guest, in their world-wide broadcast this afternoon.

It was the fourth day of the Italian premier's history-making, five-day visit of state to Germany.

There was a strong indication that qualifying "strings" were attached to the side-by-side appeal prepared by the two heads of state. The limitation of collaboration with "all other peoples of good will" was sponsored by Mussolini in an exchange of toasts last night at a state banquet in his honor.

That in itself would cover considerable ground—excluding Soviet Russia and Republican Spain, for example. Previous Italo-German manifestations have made clear that the Fascist governments do not regard these two as "peoples of good will."

Roy Gustafson

The male trio of the Florida Bible Institute, Temple Terrace, Tampa, Fla., now on concert tour through eastern and mid-western states, will appear at the First Baptist church at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday.

The public is invited to hear them sing and the program will be in charge of Merle Miller.

Members of the group, also known as the Sunshine Trio, are Howard Street, of St. Petersburg, Fla., first tenor; Howard Rich, Buffalo, N. Y., second tenor, and Roy Gustafson, Boston, Mass., bass and chorist.

The trio has been recognized particularly for its unique interpretation of gospel music. Much of the success of the organization is due to the efficient training of Prof. and Mrs. L. H. Markham of Detroit.

Last summer the trio was heard in churches of more than a dozen different evangelical denominations, in Bible conferences, over radio stations and were greeted by large audiences wherever they appeared.

Cuyahoga Sheriff Fires Three After Daring Jail Break

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—Sheriff
Martin L. O'Donnell, discharging three deputies and suspending a fourth, said today he was satisfied
a jail break of three escaped Missouri convicts "could have been avoided if the rules and orders given by me had been followed."

The sheriff's action came as a federal bureau of prisons inspector came from Washington to investigate the escape, and as Mayor Frank C. Cain of Cleveland Heights urged that O'Donnell resign.

The three discharged for the escape last Wednesday of the Bird brothers, Charles and Frank, and James Widmer, are:

John Somerville, assistant chief jailer in charge when the armed flight took place; Martin F. Singleton, in charge of issuance of visitors' cards, and Arthur Weitzel,
stationed at the jail's fourth floor
exit.

At the same time, the sheriff suspended for 30 days Anthony Zak, from whom Charles Bird took the keys to the cell block that held the other two prisoners.

James V. Bennett, director of the prisons bureau, said in Washington that the bureau would not consider removing federal prisoners from the modern, tower-like jail, first occupied in 1931, until the investigation is completed.

"It was my opinion," Sheriff O'Donnell said in a formal statement, "these prisoners escaped because of negligence in the performance of duty and violation of my orders."

The fugitives were reported seen in an east side neighborhood not far from where they abandoned the third car they seized in their wild flight, but deputies said they lost the trail after a pursuit of several blocks. Police said they thought it was a case of mistaken identity.

SIX INJURED IN TWO ACCIDENTS

Three Pennsylvanians In Clinic After Crash Near Lisbon

the trip to the courthouse by riding in the wreck.

Mr. and Mrs. Lightfoot and her aunt were injured as they were returning from a trip to Niagara Falls.

Tries to Pass Car

Corp. S. F. Van Allen of the state highway patrol said the accident occurred when another machine,
operated by Bert Henninger of R.
D. 5, Warren, tried to pass a car ahead of him.

Henninger, traveling north, found himself faced by Lightfoot's car, coming south. Both drivers swerved into a nearby church yard at the same time, resulting in the collision.

Henninger was only shaken.

James "Dubline" of Youngstown received his broken arm when he lost control of his car on Route 165, near the Ellsworth road intersection, at 12:30 a. m., and it overturned.

Three other persons riding with him were unhurt, Patrolman George Reash learned.

Truck Cuts Capers

When the front spring of a truck driven by Merle Adams, of Lisbon, snapped as the vehicle started down-grade on Woodland ave., at 4:10 p. m. Monday, Adams lost control.

The machine careened up over the curb at the right, missed a fire plug by inches and then veer-ed to the left, crashing into a cement light pole on the opposite side of the street.

The truck overturned on top of the bent pole and Adams clambered out—without a scratch.

Giants Take Double Bill To Increase Lead Over Chicago

GOPHERS SENT THROUGH HARD GRID WORKOUT

Bierman Reminds Squad Of Touchdown Scored Against Them

By EARL HILLIGAN
CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Minnesota's Gophers aren't apt to forget—at least for a few days—that touchdown North Dakota State scored on them last Saturday.

The Gophers may have scored 69 points as their opening opponent was scoring just seven, but Coach Bernie Bierman kept busy today on a program of reminding his charges that the 10 touchdowns against North Dakota State won't help them a bit next Saturday against the rough Nebraska Cornhuskers.

A defeat Saturday would ruin Minnesota's chances for national honors and Bierman planned hard workouts for the next two days.

Pass defense also occupied Michigan Wolverines, preparing for Michigan State Saturday. Fred Janke, regular 1936 tackle placed at fullback this season went to the sidelines in favor of Ed Stanton, who made a good showing in Saturday's intra-squad scrimmage. Ohio State, which opens the Big Ten title race against Purdue, worked on offensive formations, while Purdue Boilermakers, in good physical condition after the Butler game, heard reports from Scouts who watched Ohio State whip Texas Christian.

Indiana, with an open date ahead, also drilled on pass defense. At Wisconsin, Coach Harry Stuhldreher rewarded Walter Cole for his showing against South Dakota State by announcing he would lead the Badgers against Marquette, Northwestern, hearing glowing reports about the passing strength of Iowa State, next Saturday's opponent for the Wildcats, drilled on defense against aerials.

Bob Zappke used seven men in a pass-defense drill, indicating he didn't care much for the lone touchdown Ohio University scored on him Saturday via the overhead route. Chicago's Maroons, who will open Saturday at Nashville against the strong Vanderbilt Commodores, practiced blocking and tackling.

Iowa, returning from Seattle after a defeat by Washington, has an open date next weekend, a breather against Bradley Tech Oct. 9 and its first Big Ten tilt Oct. 16 against Wisconsin.

LITTLE WORLD SERIES OPENS

Columbus, Newark Play For Minor League Baseball Title

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 28.—It's "farm" team against "farm" team—representatives of the two major baseball chains—in the little world series opening in Newark tomorrow.

Winners of the pennants in the International league and American association and survivors of extra-curricular playoff series, Newark and Columbus are the foes in the premier minor league classic. An argument for the farm system, their triumphs, as Newark is the No. 1 farm club in the New York Yankee chain, Columbus the top team in the far-flung St. Louis Cardinal domain.

Columbus won its place yesterday by beating Milwaukee, 10 to 4, to take the final American association playoff, 4 games to 2. Newark's Bears, dubbed the "conquer team" of the minor circuits, acquired their little world series assignment last week, defeating first Syracuse and then Baltimore in the playoffs without losing a game after breezing into the international championship by a 25½ game margin.

Idle since Friday, the Bears play a warm-up today against a team of Yankee chain prospects from lower classification clubs. The Red Birds, entraining after their game in Milwaukee, will arrive tomorrow, only a few hours before game time at Ruppert stadium.

The first three games will be played here, night contests Thursday and Friday following the opener. The best-of-seven series will resume, if the weather man doesn't interfere, in Columbus Saturday night and continue there until it is decided.

At Columbus Manager Burt Shotton of the Red Birds nominated Max Macon for the first pitching assignment.

Want State Park
COLUMBUS, Sept. 28.—The league of Ohio sportsmen set out today to do something about the lack of a state park on Lake Erie. Secy. Trent D. Stickle, asserting "there is no place along Lake Erie where the public can approach the lake on public land," announced the league would ask the legislature to buy land and establish "the Lake Erie State park."

A Champ Soaring Over

Margaret Bergmann, European record holder with a mark of 5 feet 3 inches, is pictured as she soared over the bar to win the high jump in the Women's National A. U. track and field meet at Trenton, N. J. Miss Bergmann, German member of the Central A. C., didn't have to stretch herself. The winning mark was five feet.

Indiana, with an open date ahead, also drilled on pass defense. At Wisconsin, Coach Harry Stuhldreher rewarded Walter Cole for his showing against South Dakota State by announcing he would lead the Badgers against Marquette, Northwestern, hearing glowing reports about the passing strength of Iowa State, next Saturday's opponent for the Wildcats, drilled on defense against aerials.

100 Golf Sharpshooters Seek Ohio Open Victory

By FRITZ HOWELL
CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—The Buckeye golfing brigade launched its 72-hole medal play test for the Ohio open championship today at the Acadia club, with about 100 of the state's sharpshooters seeking the title now held by Al Espinosa, the golfing Spaniard from Akron Portage club and Mexico City.

The field, about three-fourths professional, and one-fourth amateur, had a look at the par 73 layout of 6,564 yards yesterday as Andy Vellian of the Warren Avalon club and Max Matusek of Cleveland ripped six strokes off par to win the pro-amateur preliminary with a score of 67.

Steve Zappe of Springfield, winner of the open back in the infant 20's, paired with Steve Stout of Cleveland to register a 68, to tie with Al Sargent of Toledo Inverness and Max Matusek of Cleveland. Zappe gave warning that he is dangerous by turning in a 69 himself, four strokes under even figures.

Espinosa, preparing for his title defense, turned in a 71, two under par, in the pro-amateur, but that was two strokes more than Billy Burke and Frank Metzger of Cleveland needed. Burke provided the big thrill in his pair's 69 with an eagle on the 18th green, where he chipped his third into the cup from 50 feet.

Zappe also came through with an eagle on the 455-yard sixth, where his second stopped only a few inches from the stick for a certain three. Tied with Burke and Metzger at 69 were Ted Luther and Dr. W. A. Welsh of Youngstown. Luther won the open two years ago at Toledo Inverness by beating Burke in a sizzling playoff. It was on that same course that Burke, in 1931, defeated George Von Elm in a 72-hole playoff for the national open championship.

Lloyd Gullickson of Elvira paired with Tris Speaker former Cleveland Indian outfielder and manager who was injured in a fall last winter. They finished with 74, one over par.

The Ohio open schedule called for 36 holes today, and 36 more Wednesday.

PICARD FAVORED TO WIN BELMONT
BELMONT, Mass., Sept. 28.—Henry Picard's par-smashing parade through the $12,000 Belmont open match play tournament put him in the role of favorite today against his Pennsylvania golfing neighbor, Byron Nelson, in a 36-hole final.

The Hershey, Pa., pro, who qualified for the final with a 7 and 6 victory over Ralph Guldahl, national open champion, was 22 strokes under par for the 122 holes he has played against four rivals.

Nelson, from Reading, Pa., advanced to the final by turning back lighthouse Harry Cooper of Chicago, 5 and 4, registering 14 under par for 137 holes of match play.

Today's final was worth $3,000 to the winner and $2,000 to the loser.

TOLEDO STICKS UNDER RAPS TO BEAT BLUFFTON

Strength of Dr. Spear's Squad Uncertain After Win

(By Associated Press)
What does Dr. Clarence Spears have at Toledo?

That was the moot question which puzzled his rival Buckeye state football coaches today.

The erstwhile University of Wisconsin mentor's grid machine stuck to straight football in its delayed opener last night and turned in a 26 to 0 victory over Bluffton college.

That represents exactly half of the wins the Toledoans turned in last campaign, Spears' first in the northwestern Ohio city. And Bluffton dropped only one game all last year.

The suspicion exists that Spears, with many rival scouts in the stands, kept his team somewhat under wraps even though they scored four touchdowns on their short jabs through the opposing line.

Also interesting to future foes of Toledo—who include such eleven as Ohio Wesleyan, Miami, Dayton, West Virginia, Xavier and Akron—is the fact that Spears' line kept Bluffton from passing the victors' 45-yard line.

Injuries plagued Capital university and Mount Union.

The Mounts feared that a broken collarbone suffered in their 18-0 opening game victory over Adrian (Mich.) might put Johnny Cabas, the New Castle (Pa.) sophomore back, out for the entire season. It's the second major casualty at Alliance. Maurice Schriener, Massillon sophomore half, suffered a bad ankle injury in practice recently.

Charles Winters, Capital's sophomore tackle who received head injuries Saturday in a game with Detroit Tech, is "doing fairly well" in a Detroit hospital, Coach William Bernholz said.

Winters regained consciousness 36 hours after he suffered a possible skull fracture. The Petersburg, O., griddler will be kept under observation for 10 days or two weeks, Coach Bernholz said.

Injuries weren't such a plague, however, at Ohio State since the entire squad emerged in good shape in winning the Texas Christian opener. Coach Francis Schmidt put his team on the offense yesterday for the clash Saturday with Purdue.

DICK CASSIANO NEW PITT STAR
Scoring 4 Touchdowns Is No Novelty To Sophomore Sensation

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—Add the name of Richard (Bandy) Cassiano to your list of Sophomore football heroes and then take a look at this boy who scored four touchdowns his first time out for Pitt.

The 20-year-old curly haired son of an Albany, N. Y., hotel chef set a lot of tongues wagging by galloping 66, 48 and 36 yards for touchdowns Saturday the rout of Ohio Wesleyan Saturday. He also threw a 26-yard touchdown pass during the 20-odd minutes he was in the melee.

But multiple touchdowns are no novelty for Cassiano. As an Albany High school Senior he moved from end to halfback and scored six in one game, four in another and personally accounted for 129 points that season.

Coach Jack Sutherland, who has shepherded many an all-American, isn't any more reckless than usual with his praise.

BOWLING RESULTS

The Ohio Edison pulled into sole possession of first place in the American Bowling league last night, winning three games from the Electric Furnace to give it a record of six straight wins.

The Masons and Fernengel's Colts went into a tie for second place, the Masons taking two out of three games from Mullins Foremen No. 1 and the Colts winning three from Mullins Foremen No. 3 on a forfeit.

Reich Sports and Mullins Press Room tangled in the "hottest" match of the night. The Sports won two of three games. One of their victories was by five pins, the other by one pin.

In the Quaker City league at the Grate Recreation alleys, three teams, the Colonial Billiards, Pure Oils and Flooding & Reynard Drugs, finished up last night in a tie for first. Each team has won five games and lost one.

Other winners in the Quaker City loop last night were the Tigers, who took three games from the East End; Harris Garage, which won two of three games over the Salem Motor, and the Althouse Motors, who took three heats from the Winona I. G. A.

Western Threat

Clara Callender, 18, clever Del Monte, Cal., golfer, shown in action above, will make a bid for the National Women's Championship at Memphis, Tenn., in October. She's the only Northern California girl to win the state title since 1912.

Today they were trailing by four and a half, with only six left to play to the Giants, they're in no matter what the Cubs do. Similarly, any combination of four—Giants wins and Cub losses—will get the Terry-men into the throne room for the second time.

The picture, in fact, is getting prettier by the minute for the Giants, who proved by stopping the Bees, 5-4 and 3-1, that they can win two games on 10 hits with just as much eclat as the American league's world series entry, the Yanks, win one with 20.

While the Cubs were handing the Reds their seventh loss in a row, the Dodgers gracefully dropped their twelfth to the Phillies, 11-3, in a game remarkable chiefly for Chuck Klein's two homers and long Tom Winsett's debut as a pitcher. He gave up two of the runs.

The Indians, playing their last home game, bowed after beating the Athletics, 6-2, with a five-hitter in the first game, tried to come back in the night-cap for the Red Sox, but gave up six walks in less than three innings and the Sox were shut out, 6-0.

The Yanks and Senators were rained out, while the other clubs were not scheduled.

CUBS WIN BUT FALL FURTHER BEHIND FIRST

Giants Cop Both Halves Of Double-Header With Bees

By BILL BONI
Like the man trying to go up the down escalator, the Cubs are sliding back each time they take a forward step.

They thought they'd taken a pretty good one when they whipped the Reds yesterday, 7-4—though so, that is, until the Giants up and took both halves of their double-header with the Bees. All of which meant that, despite winning, Manager Charley Grimm's grimacing crew had lost another half game.

Today they were trailing by four and a half, with only six left to play to the Giants, they're in no matter what the Cubs do. Similarly, any combination of four—Giants wins and Cub losses—will get the Terry-men into the throne room for the second time.

Theater Attractions

Good double bills are presented Wednesday and Thursday at both theaters.

The State offers Madeleine Carroll, Frances Lederer and Mischa Auer in a comedy, "It's All Yours" and Gertrude Michael and Lee Bowman in "Sophie Lang Goes West."

Girl Wins Fortune

The comedy, "It's All Yours," is a daffy story of a mousy girl secretary who inherits a fortune that a playboy nephew thought he would get. The girl, Miss Carroll, blossoms out into a dazzling beauty, and begins to dissipate the wealth left her. The playboy, amidst her recklessness and extravagance, and tries to prevent the complete loss of her fortune. Her partner in spending the money is Mischa Auer.

The story of "Sophie Lang Goes West" is concerned with Miss Michael, who is forced by the police to leave New York, and jumps aboard a train bound for California. On it she meets Lee Bowman, who protects her from searching policemen, and a Sultan who has a huge diamond called "The Star of the World." Sandra Storme, a famous actress, and her manager, Larry Crabbe, are both on the train and Crabbe has plans for the theft of the diamond himself. Miss Michael does not tell Bowman that she is a gem thief, but lays plans to steal the jewel in spite of Crabbe's plans.

Gem Disappears
At a party in Hollywood the gem disappears, and suspicion is directed to Miss Michael. Crabbe has stolen the diamond and escaped, followed by Bowman. Bowman manages to catch up with Crabbe and Miss Michael in time to clear her name and convince her that diamond stealing is too strenuous a life work. She decides that she will go straight and go straight to Bowman, too!

"Lost Horizon," one of the finest recent pictures, starring Ronald Colman concludes at the State tonight.

The first picture at the Grand is "On Such a Night" featuring Karen Morley, Grant Richards, Eduardo Cianielli and Roscoe Karns.

Karen Morley, in the role of a Broadway star, has gone down to the little Louisiana town where her husband, Grant Richards, has been convicted of murder. The night of the execution, she travels out to the prison, accompanied by Eduardo Cianielli, a New York gambler mysteriously interested in Richards' fate, and Roscoe Karns, a newspaperman.

Released By Guards
Forced to seek refuge en route to the prison by the rising flood of the Mississippi, the three find Richards, who has been released by his guards while being transferred to another prison.

After they all flee for safety, only to be trapped by the swollen waters in the attic of an old mansion, Cianielli reveals that he has framed Richards, having committed the crime himself.

"Wine, Women and Horses," the second half of the double bill, gives Barton MacLane a different type of role than usual. Instead of a tough guy part he is the hero of the story, a race-track enthusiast and gambler. Peggy Bates, seen as his wife, is a small-town girl with an aversion to racing and Ann Sheridan is a fellow gambler with MacLane.

"The Life of the Party," with a large cast of comedy favorites, will be seen at the Grand for the last times tonight.

CLUES ARE FEW IN KIDNAP HUNT

Possibility of Death Is Seen In Abductors' Silence

Completed by amateurs," Capt. Gilbert said, adding his belief that at least five men would have participated if the kidnapping was the work of professionals.

Capt. Gilbert said an investigation disclosed the victim's past life was above reproach and free of scandal. Ross was not in financial difficulties nor did he have any known enemies, he said.

No New Details
Miss Frehage added no new details in the re-telling of her story. She said Ross had noticed a car following them on the 50 mile trip to Chicago and had stopped to let it pass. The pursuing car stopped and a youth about 20 emerged, covered them with a pistol and said:

"This is a snatch. My boss told me to bring you along."

Capt. Gilbert said the youth's nervousness stamped him as an amateur. The reference to the "boss" was presumably an attempt to make the kidnapping appear as the plot of a "master mind," he added.

Saved By Aunt
TIPPIN, Sept. 28.—George Zeis, 18, credited the alertness of his aunt, Mrs. Blanche Burd, with saving him from serious injury and possible death when an enraged bull trampled him at a farm north of here yesterday. She seized a pitchfork as the bull charged and routed the animal from an enclosure.

Lodge Nominates
DAYTON, Sept. 28.—The Pythian Sisters of Ohio made nominations for new officers at their convention here today.

The delegates heard Gov. Martin L. Davey defend the use of national guards in the steel strike area at a banquet last night. Davey asserted Communists were responsible for the strike.

POWER PROJECT LAUDED BY F.D.R.

Sees, at Bonneville, Better Conditions for Small Communities

Pittsburgh near the proposed St. Lawrence dam site and adopted a policy of distribution of the power to benefit hundreds of smaller towns.

After predicting every community in the Columbia basin would be wholly electrified in the not far distant future, he added:

"It is because I am thinking of the nation and the region fifty years from now that I venture the further prophesy that as time passes we will do everything in our power to encourage the building up of the smaller communities of the United States."

"Today many people are beginning to realize that there is inherent weakness in cities which become too large and inherent strength in a wider geographical distribution of population."

"An over-large city inevitably meets problems caused by oversize. Real estate values and rents become too high; the time consumed in going from one's home to one's work and back again becomes excessive; congestion of streets and other transportation problems arise; truck gardens disappear because the backyard is too small; the cost of living of the average family rises far too high."

Urges "Reasonable Balance"
The President said there was "doubtless a reasonable balance in all of this and it is a balance which ought to be given more and more study."

No one would suggest, he said, that Portland, Tacoma, Seattle and Spokane should stop their growth, but he added their healthiest growth depends on a simultaneous healthy growth of every smaller community within a radius of hundreds of miles.

Declaring better land use and water conservation were matters of "national concern," he said if the government had the knowledge many years ago it has now and the willingness to act, it would have saved the taxpayers in the last few years "at least two billion dollars."

He said this would have been done by avoiding plating vast areas that should have been kept in grazing, preventing overgrowing, checking soil erosion and denudation of forests and controlling disastrous fires.

The President said the $51,000,000 Bonneville dam, complete except for installation of initial power machinery, would enable shipping to use the Columbia river "much further inland than at present, and give an outlet to the enormously valuable agricultural and mineral products of Oregon and Washington and Idaho."

Its generators will be turned on in a few months.
